

Welcome to the Peoples Café

More information is online at: www.PeoplesCafe.US

What is the Peoples Café? It is where people gather in public to nurture non-partisan discussions about creative ideas. It is evolving as a cultural phenomenon in numerous communities.

Where did it begin? How long ago? The cafes were officially launched in Boulder, Colorado in April, 2004. It began with one café in town, and has since expanded in other areas. Attendance at each café has varied between 5 and 100 (at a special outdoor venue). Guest speakers have included political candidates for U.S. Senate, U.S. Congress, and County Commissioner.

Why meet in busy, and sometimes noisy, cafes and coffee houses? The reason we meet in public cafes is to attract cafe patrons into our “non-trivial” conversation. It is suggested that you engage in dialog with this in mind, and be welcoming to others nearby your table. Creative conversation can be very contagious!

So how does it all start? We request that you limit your comments to 2-minutes maximum. Please exercise fairness to allow others in the group to speak, especially those who haven't spoken much (or at all) during the meeting. We also ask you to allow guests to speak freely without cross-talk. Let's all participate as co-facilitators of this meeting to insure a successful gathering.

How can I stay in touch about future events? It's easy. Visit the website at: www.PeoplesCafe.US. There you'll find lots of facts on the café gatherings, creative writings, and valuable reference info.

Welcome to the Peoples Café

More information is online at: www.PeoplesCafe.US

What is the Peoples Café? It is where people gather in public to nurture non-partisan discussions about creative ideas. It is evolving as a cultural phenomenon in numerous communities.

Where did it begin? How long ago? The cafes were officially launched in Boulder, Colorado in April, 2004. It began with one café in town, and has since expanded in other areas. Attendance at each café has varied between 5 and 100 (at a special outdoor venue). Guest speakers have included political candidates for U.S. Senate, U.S. Congress, and County Commissioner.

Why meet in busy, and sometimes noisy, cafes and coffee houses? The reason we meet in public cafes is to attract cafe patrons into our “non-trivial” conversation. It is suggested that you engage in dialog with this in mind, and be welcoming to others nearby your table. Creative conversation can be very contagious!

So how does it all start? We request that you limit your comments to 2-minutes maximum. Please exercise fairness to allow others in the group to speak, especially those who haven't spoken much (or at all) during the meeting. We also ask you to allow guests to speak freely without cross-talk. Let's all participate as co-facilitators of this meeting to insure a successful gathering.

How can I stay in touch about future events? It's easy. Visit the website at: www.PeoplesCafe.US. There you'll find lots of facts on the café gatherings, creative writings, and valuable reference info.