In addition to holding Peoples Cafes in commercial cafes, we would also like to hold them in alternative locations so that a more diverse population can participate. Additionally, we would like to make them available to marginalized people, such as prisoners, U.S. immigrants, at schools, with at-risk children, at homeless shelters, and with indigenous and non-English-speaking groups, to name a few.

Please contact us if you'd like to organize one of these programs.

The Peoples Café...

...is an ongoing series of cafe discussion groups in many communities. It includes simple conversations and group dialog. Since we meet in public places, drawing onlookers into the discussion is our goal. Our commitment is to be politically, religiously, and philosophically non-partisan.

Peoples Cafes are popular with those who desire a sustainable planet and representative government.

Come join other participants to chat, sip some coffee or tea, and build community. Come talk about social issues, current events, what's going on in the community, our democratic vision, and what we can do to 'Be The Change'!

Quotes from café participants

"I enjoy participating in the Peoples Cafe. It's a place to talk about what's going on in my community and share experiences. It also encourages talk about the state of the world and exchanging ideas. I find it refreshing to do that; it opens my mind and actually my heart, because people share their stories."

-Nancy McGuire

"A truly great way of building network with the right kind of people - it has allowed us to share our personal experience in a political sense, learn new ideas of what we can do in our community to bring different groups of people together and what can we do to protect democracy."

-Khadija Qadri

"Through the Peoples Cafe, we have one more way of standing outside the White House; one more vehicle of building community at the grassroots level for the tedious work ahead, as we wrest power over our government from the corporate juggernaut now firmly in the driver's seat. And you know what else? It's fun! So join us for high-octane discussion and community building at a locally owned cafe near you!"

-Walt Kramarz

Peoples Cafes are now forming in communities in several states.
